Sgt. Gonsalves:

I recently attended and graduated from the Basic SWAT school located in Huntington Beach at Golden West Valley College. The school was well organized and the instructional staff consisted of 7 instructors who each had considerable amounts of experience in the field as well as SWAT experience. The instructors represented departments predominately located in LA County including Huntington Beach PD, Santa Ana Pd, and Los Angeles County Sheriff's Dept. I have absolutely no complaints about the quality of the staff or the structure of the school itself.
