RE: Code Enforcement

Dear Members:

I recently had a good experience with a code enforcement officer of yours, and I thought that in these days of tight budgets and layoffs, it might be a good idea to tell you about it.

I inherited 2 rental properties in Lemoore. I have no time to travel there to look in on them myself and rely on my property management company to do what is necessary. On the whole, they are great, but sometimes things get dropped through the cracks. Enter: Ms. Nancy Blum who sent me a notice of some code enforcement violations. But for her, I wouldn't know about the conditions on my property.

No one wants to live on a junky street, and as a landlord, having the city issue code violations gives me the ammunition I need to persuade my tenants to make changes. It's an important tool to making a city look like a place folks would want to live, work, play and make investments.

Kind regards,

Elisa Abelleira
