

Central California

Planning Commissioners' Workshop "Tools for Success"

Web Sites for Planning Tools

The internet is an excellent source to collect planning tools for your "Personal Tool Box". Please consider the web sites listed below and visit them to see if it is of interest to you. There are many other sites available to you. Search the web and you are bound to find what it is you are looking for in the way of books, articles, studies, papers, contacts, etc. Don't forget to ask your Planning Staff for assistance in finding what you want or need.

1. The Institute for Local Government - Planning Commissioner's Handbook 2004:
www.ca-ilg.org/pch
2. The Institute for Local Government – Series of Publications on Planning, Ethics, & Issues:
www.ca-ilg.org/ilgpubs
3. American Planning Association – Planning Books & Training (Audio/Visual):
www.planning.org
4. Robert's Rules of Order for Fair and Orderly Meetings and Conventions:
www.robertsrules.org
5. Local Government Commission – Publications and DVD's:
www.lgc.org
6. League of California Cities – California City Oriented Planning Information www.cacities.org
7. California County Planning Commissioner's Association – Various Resources
www.planningcommission.org
8. Smart Growth America – Publications and Articles:
www.smartgrowthamerica.org
9. Congress for the New Urbanism – Examples of Neighborhood Based Development www.cnu.org
10. Planning Commissioner's Journal – City and Regional Oriented Planning Information
www.pcj.typepad.com