Californians illegally discard millions of gallons of used oil each year. Used oil is a household hazardous waste that pollutes the environment and contaminates waterways when disposed of improperly – through storm drains, gutters and the garbage. One gallon of oil can contaminate 1 million gallons of drinking water.

For more information on the disposal of household hazardous waste, contact the Kings Waste & Recycling Authority at \(559\) 583-8829.
