

GWENDOLYN S. LANDRUS

Moved to Lemoore in 1977 when my husband was hired as a teacher at Lemoore High. We left in 1996 and returned in 2013. Wanted to make Lemoore our retirement home. The first time we moved to Lemoore it was a busy town with an active downtown area with nice shops to look at and shop. The disappointment when we came back was that downtown had pretty much gone away. I miss that old town feeling and the shopping offered. My main focus as a member of the City Council will be to find a way to encourage new businesses to move into Lemoore. When we left Lemoore I had just graduated from West Hills College where I worked with Disabled Student Services. While living in the Antelope Valley, I volunteered at the new high school. I worked with Counseling Department making sure students got the classes that they needed. I also worked with the clubs making sure money was properly deposited and fund raising protocol was followed. In 2005 I was hired as Cheerleading coach.
